BOARD MESSAGE

Investing in Young Scholars, Musicians and Cultural Ambassadors

Liam Reidy

The Center has been a hive of activity over the past few weeks, with ongoing weekly Irish music, bagpipes, drumming, and Irish dance practices. But that's just the beginning – there's plenty more in store for our younger members in the weeks ahead!

Supporting Our Scholars — First on the agenda is our annual Leo T Walsh scholarship program, which provides financial support to graduating high school seniors and eighth-grade students from local grammar schools as they embark on the next phase of their educational journey. In its 31st year, this program has awarded over 700 scholarships since its inception in 1994, thanks to the generous contributions of our community supporters and donors. We look forward to celebrating the achievements of our scholarship recipients at the award ceremony at 3pm on May 19th, followed by graduation festivities here at the Center later in May.

Irish Camp Turns Four — Our annual Irish summer camp is gearing up for its fourth year, with an impressive 80 kids signed up to join Camp Director Máire Clerkin and her experienced team between June 10th and 28th. This year, campers will delve into the world of traditional Irish ballads and party songs, exploring the iconic sounds of artists like Sinéad O'Connor, Christy Moore, and many more. Máire shares, "Ireland is famous for its music, and our campers will embark on a journey through both classic and contemporary Irish melodies, bringing these timeless stories to life through song and theatrical performance."

A Delight for Campers — At camp, every participant will have the chance to shine, whether it's through singing, acting, dancing, or playing instruments. With a mix of indoor and outdoor activities, including sports, arts and crafts, and technology workshops, our campers will be fully immersed in Irish culture and creativity. And with three weeks of workshops covering everything from music and dance to storytelling and theater, our campers will collaborate to create a spectacular theatrical production to showcase their talents on June 28th.

Camp Sign Up — There are still some spots available for this year's summer camp which runs from 9am-3pm daily Monday through Friday. Starts June 10th and you can sign up online. www.irishcentersf.org/programs/irish-camp/

Kids' Music Workshops — Don't miss our kids' music workshops during the traditional Irish Music Festival weekend from June 21st to 23rd! We'll be offering instruction in bodhrán, tin whistle, bagpipes, banjo, fiddle, and more – a perfect opportunity for young musicians to develop an interest in a musical instrument and connect with their Irish heritage.

Giants Irish Night — Eleven-year-old Tanner Manning has been selected to sing “The Star Spangled Banner” to kick off the SF Giants game against the Cincinnati Reds on May 10th as part of Irish Heritage night at the Giants.

What a great honor for our Irish community to take center stage at our local big league ballpark. Tanner is a great UICC ambassador—thriving in our Youth Music Program as he’s taken to the bagpipes. In addition to his singing talents, he’s also a talented Irish dancer. We are excited to cheer him on May 10!

Wawona Gates Turns 4 — We will celebrate the four year anniversary of Wawona Gates on the weekend of June 21-23. The outdoor space at the Center was very popular during the pandemic and continues to serve as an event space for several events and for private parties during the year. Look for the music and dancing line up next month!

AOH Young Ambassadors — In early June, two young men (Tony Sheridan and Shane Reidy) from the local community will travel to the Saint Patrick Center in Downpatrick, Co. Down as part of the Ancient Order of Hibernians National Young Ambassadors Program. The aim of the program is to create a network of informed and influential young individuals throughout America with specialist knowledge and links to the northern part of Ireland. The Young Ambassadors program aims to develop a meaningful and on-going relationship with Ireland and will continue to represent it when appropriate throughout the rest of their lives through their work in the AOH.

Keepers of the Steps — The Keepers of the Steps exhibition “Irish Dance—Celebrating the Roots, Rhythms, and Rituals of the San Francisco Irish” at the San Francisco Historical Society downtown has been extended until July. Great news if you have not had a chance to check it out. Check the Museums website for opening times.

www.sfhhistory.org/

Pathway to Change — Ciaran Scally was in contact recently and is inviting the community to an evening discussion on peace and reconciliation in Ireland. The event takes place here at the Center on Thursday May 23rd at 7pm. Entitled “Planning and Preparing for a New and United Ireland” the event will feature two guest speakers from Ireland’s Future, a leading civic group which enjoys engagement with people from all across the entire political spectrum in Ireland. Niall Murphy is a Civil Rights Attorney and Karen Sethuraman is the only female Baptist Minister in Ireland.

Organized by the Knights of the Red Branch and The Irish Herald this event promises a lively, informative and positive discussion around the best ways to achieve a fair and just society for all the people of Ireland.

E-Waste Pick up — We have a Free e-waste removal service coming to the Irish Center on Tuesday May 7th at 10am. Bring along your old electronics before 10am to have them recycled properly. The materials will be picked up by the SF Conservation Corps. More info at 415-860-1854

Ronald Reagan — I had a note recently from John Haggerty (Santa Clara) who pointed out an omission in last month’s message. As part of my notes on Irish American Heritage month, I noted that three of California’s Governors (Pat Brown, Jerry Brown, and Gavin Newsom had some Irish ancestry. However, I omitted to mention that California Governor (and later, two-term American President) Ronald Reagan also had substantial Irish ancestry. Indeed, all four of his father’s grandparents were Irish immigrants. Thank you John for helping to fill out the historical record.

World Champion Dancer — Congratulations to Hanah Logar (Whelan Academy) who won the World Senior Ladies Irish Dancer championship in Glasgow, Scotland recently.

CONNAUGHT SOCIAL CLUB SIGN FINDS A NEW HOME IN THE LIBRARY

Mike O'Driscoll dropped by the Patrick J Dowling library on April 26th and presented the Irish Center with a Connaught Social Club sign which had been stored in his mom's (Rose O'Driscoll RIP) garage for many years. The sign was originally made by Larry Donnelly (Rose's sister Mary's husband) and used at dances and picnics for many years. Larry Donnelly installed the double stairs in advance of the opening of the Irish Center.

Mike's mom was Rose (nee Lennon) from Cloone, Co. Leitrim and his father was from Baltimore in west Cork. Both of Mike's parents were charter members of the Irish Center when it opened on March 8th, 1975. Next year the Center will celebrate 50 years on 45th Avenue!

EASTER SUNDAY PARADE

Mike Cotter and his sister Julie Kell attended the parade at Holy Cross cemetery on Easter Sunday. Mike is a member of the Pierce and Connolly Fife and Drum Band.

Nora Robinson, Eithne and Owen Clancy participated in the Easter Sunday parade with the Pierce and Connolly Fife and Drum band.

CÉILÍ ON THE LAKE IRISH DANCE & MUSIC FESTIVAL

The Center held a prominent spot at the first annual Céilí on the Lake on the weekend of April 27-28th. The UICC booth was set up and staffed by a small but mighty crew of volunteers—wonderful ambassadors for all the cultural programming efforts and exciting plans for the new Irish Center. New memberships were signed up; email addresses collected for communication; plenty of information about our building plans were offered; Taytos flying off the shelves; secondhand books sold to benefit our Dowling Library with awareness raised as to what our Library has to offer; questions asked and answered about our history and where we are located; ancestors looked up in the history book when someone shared they thought their grandfather helped build the Irish Center (and the look of delight on the young lady's face when Anne Carew showed her the index of names and she saw Tom Kelly); children delighted in the craft options of fairy wands and Saint Brigid crosses; plans for Irish dance dress donation and ephemera as we promoted the collection efforts of Keepers of the Steps; the delights of our youth music program talked about along with the highly anticipated singing of the national anthem by Tanner Manning at Irish Heritage Night at the Giants on May 10.

FROM THE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM ARCHIVES OF 1999,
PLEASE ENJOY A HEART-FELT DESCRIPTION OF THIS SHCP SENIOR'S IRISH HERITAGE SUBMITTED TO THE UICC.

My name is Erin Gulgengay. I was born on March 2, 1981 to the proud parents Kathleen (Kay) and George Gulgengay. My mother Kay (Toolis) Gulgengay is a first generation Irish American.

My Grandparents, Mary and Ray Toolis landed in San Francisco in 1926 and 1929. They were raised in Achill Island, County Mayo and lived only 5 miles from each other. It was not until a dance at the Knights of the Red Branch (KRB) that they met at 7th and Mission Streets in San Francisco. I have often heard my mother call the KRB the predecessor the United Irish Cultural Center.

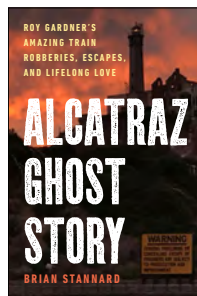

I have heard remarkable stories about the generosity of my Grandparents from both my family and numerous people in the Irish Community who always remind me of my wonderful Grandparents and their involvement in the Irish Community in San Francisco. Most people who remember my Grandmother (Mary) whom I never had the pleasure of knowing, always remark about her kindness, warmth and best "The Best Irish Bread in San Francisco."

My Grandfather, (Ray) whom I did have the privilege of living with for the first five years of my life, is remembered as quiet, fun loving and generous man. Their home (which is my home) was always open to all new "Greenhorns" arriving from Ireland. According to my mother there was a preference for the Mayo people. My Grandfather was known for his efforts in assisting young Irish in finding work, and I have met many who have told me that my Grandfather found them their first job. He was an active member of the Connaught Athletic Club. His home was available for meetings of the Club. I am told that many a good Irish party was held at my Grandparent's home. His father Pat Toolis was President of the Mayomen's Association and was the field announcer at Ewing Field for the Gaelic Football Games.

Like my Grandparent, my parents, have been active in the Irish Community in San Francisco. They remain close to the many friends of my Grandparents of all ages and Counties of Ireland. My father, George, (although not being Irish by birth) was a Member of the UICC Board of Directors for two years and served as Vice President. My mother, Kay, was a Member of the Board of Directors for three years and served as President for two of those three years.

I am proud of my Irish Heritage. Through my Grandparents and parents example, love and involvement in the Irish Community, I see the need to continue to keep alive our Irish Heritage, as it is this heritage that joins a loving people together to remember their own roots of Ireland and share their memories and love for Ireland.

BRIAN STANNARD - MAY 16TH BOOK TALK

Alcatraz tour guide Stannard recounts the exploits of the prison's "second-most-notorious inmate" in his immersive debut. Ray Gardner was a mail train robber who escaped prison three times in the years after WWI, earning himself regular mentions in vaudeville acts of the era and nicknames including the Smiling Bandit and the Human Eel. In reality, Gardner was an Army deserter and amateur boxer with a wife and child, whose thefts up and down the West Coast were never particularly lucrative. After Gardner broke out of Washington State's McNeil Island prison twice in the early 1920s, federal agents mounted a public campaign for information leading to his arrest, and America became enthralled by the letters he wrote to California newspapers and President Warren Harding earnestly pleading for his conviction to be overturned. After he was caught and sent to Leavenworth and then Alcatraz, Gardner begged for a lobotomy, attributing his criminal behavior to an old head injury. Finally paroled in 1938, he published a brief memoir about his time locked up in Alcatraz with the likes of Al Capone and George "Machine Gun" Kelly, and gave several radio interviews. In 1940, Gardner died poor and alone, by suicide, at a hotel in San Francisco's Tenderloin District. Stannard's thorough research and swift pacing satisfy. Historical true crime fans should check this out.
